

Good Programming Practice – Links to Useful Internet Pages for Pharmaceutical Programming

Introduction

Here the most useful links for topics around the pharmaceutical SAS area are presented. If you can enhance the list, email workinggroups@phuse.global.

Must Have Links

Lex Jansen - Homepage which provides Papers from all SAS related conferences

SAS-L mailing list - broadly used mailing list for SAS and related topics, excellent platform to find help on toughest problems

SAS Pages	SAS Graphics
- SAS Support Page: http://support.sas.com/ - SAS Knowledge Base: http://support.sas.com/rnd/base/index.html - SAS Community Wiki: http://www.sascommunity.org/ - SAS Forum: http://support.sas.com/forums/index.jspa	SAS 9.2 Graphic Template Language (GTL) - documentation including plot explanations SAS 9.3 Graphic Template Language (GTL) Graphically Speaking - SAS Blog - Sanjay Matange Traditional SAS Graph Examples

Pharmaceutical

CDISC	Authority Related	Other
CDISC - official CDISC homepage containing specifications and guidances Controlled Terminology (on National Cancer Institute) - Overview and Links to standard Terminologies	Clinicaltrials.gov - Platform with published and to publish clinical trials FDA: Study Data Standards Resources	Regional Links http://www.redscope.org/ - German SAS communication platform

Blogs

The most excellent PHUSE Blog
Life as a Healthcare CIO